Vice Chair Heck called for questions from the commission.

The commission and staff discussed the current and future zoning of the state land property west of this property, the owner of the property, and who will be responsible for the development of the proposed retail/commercial portions of the property.

David Pollack, 2727 N. Central Ave., Phoenix, Arizona, representing Amerco Real Estate Company and U-Haul International LLC, addressed the commission.

The commission and Mr. Pollack discussed what type of tenants will be in the industrial area and with the limited experience of Amerco, which resources will they use to help. The commission also mentioned that although this might be a profitable venture for U-Haul, it might be at the expense of small businesses in the city. Mr. Pollack explained the thoughts of U-Haul and how they don't want to hurt the local dealers.

The commission and Mr. Pollack discussed their project in the west valley and the reported lack of water and water pressure.

The commission and Mr. Pollack discussed using the property for storage and how the commission does not want additional storage, how the commission wants more of a retail complex in the area, how the city relies on sales tax which storage lots do not generate, the meaning of shovel ready and what the 40 acres will look like before it gets developed. The commission also asked Mr. Pollack why large retailers he previously mentioned aren't looking at the property for development.

Having no further discussion, Vice Chair Heck opened the public hearing.

Having no one wishing to address the commission, Vice Chair closed the public hearing portion of the item.
