M. CALL TO PUBLIC

Jason Taylor, 1135 S. 96th Place, shared that his non profit provides a free culinary course in return for 50 volunteer hours and partners with Genesis Project. He was once homeless and knows how that life feels.

Ray Villa, 2243 N. Estates Circle, is the board chair for Jason's non profit and really believes in what he does. They are offering life skill training.

Tamara Taylor, 1135 S. 96th Place, introduced Jason Taylor to speak again. Mr. Taylor continued to explain what his non profit teaches and offers to the community.

George Schroeder, 2444 W. Virginia Street in Apache Junction, asked that Chief Farber donate one of the fido bags to the new dog park. His neighbors have asked him to represent them in demanding that their street be fixed or he is going to shut the city down and stop their wages.

Stephany Duarte, 1822 S. Coconino Drive, shared that the city does not address the blind community members. Her mother was blind so she knows the struggles. She would like to suggest audible cross walks at all street lights in the city.

Barbara McGuire, hopes that the new district lines will include Apache Junction. It is her intention to run again and will advocate for Apache Junction. She would be happy to offer letters for support for any grants that the city is applying for.

Councilmember Biggs asked for staff to reach out to Stephany in regards to better serving the blind in our community.
