On agenda:	4/17/2017		Final action:

Title: Presentation and discussion on the city of Apache Junction's participation in the "Project Cities" program with Arizona State University. ASU is asking the city to be the pilot city for an educational partnership in innovation program. The program is similar to 27 programs at other universities throughout the country. The program matches projects that the community would like to undertake with appropriate classes, professors and existing curriculum.
